A new way to wear the mood

TATTVA is a new line of convertible, multi-use fashion adornments inspired by three elemental energies — worn as a hair accessory, brooch or belt and bag charm, turning a familiar outfit into a different expression of self.

WHY IT MAKES SENSE FOR PAST MODERN

Past Modern reinterprets Indian references through a contemporary fashion lens. TATTVA extends that philosophy beyond clothing — into adornment.

LAUNCH OBJECTIVE

A new accessory category for Past Modern — and TATTVA as personal expression, not just decoration.

AS A HAIR ACCESSORY

AS A BROOCH

AS A BELT / BAG CHARM

Speculative concept — not commissioned or executed by Past Modern.

02 — THE AUDIENCE

The self-expressive stylist

She sees styling as a language.

Fashion-conscious, visually curious and expressive. She likes discovering new ways to wear familiar pieces rather than constantly rebuilding her wardrobe.

SHE VALUES

Individuality

She wants her styling to feel like her.

Simplicity

She doesn't want experimentation to become effort.

Distinctiveness

She wants something people notice about her styling.

Meaning

She is drawn to pieces that carry a story, reference or point of view.

HER BEHAVIOUR

She may wear the same base outfit repeatedly — but doesn't want it to feel repetitive. A small styling decision can change how she feels about the whole look.

THE TENSION

“I don't want to completely change my outfit every time I want to feel different.”

THE GAP

She already owns clothes she loves. The problem isn't a lack of clothing — it's the feeling that a different expression requires a different outfit.

THE INSIGHT

“I don't always need a new outfit to express a different side of myself — sometimes I just need a new way to style the one I'm already wearing.”

THE OPPORTUNITY

Turn the styling detail into the transformation. Not a new wardrobe. A different energy.

Consumer insight is a strategic hypothesis developed for this speculative project.

A way to make familiar clothes feel newly expressive.

For fashion-conscious, self-expressive consumers, TATTVA is a collection of convertible fashion adornments that helps them express how they want to show up without changing their entire outfit.

WHAT WE WANT THE AUDIENCE TO ASSOCIATE WITH TATTVA

- 01 Personal expression
- 02 Contemporary Indian identity
- 03 Effortless transformation
- 04 Distinctive styling

05 — THE BIG IDEA

T A T T V A

SAME YOU. DIFFERENT ENERGY.

TATTVA isn't another accessory. It gives the wearer agency over the feeling of a familiar look.

AGNI → PRESENCE

JAL → EASE

VAYU → FREEDOM

"Your outfit doesn't have to change for your expression to change."

Discover how you want to show up. Find your element. Experience it through scent, space and styling. Wear it your way.

One idea. Four touchpoints.

DISCOVER → ANTICIPATE → INTRIGUE → EXPERIENCE → WEAR → EXPRESS

01

SOCIAL

ROLE: DISCOVER

Turn the campaign into a personal interaction: “How do you want to show up?” The experience leads the audience to their element.

02

PR + CREATORS

ROLE: ANTICIPATE

A two-stage reveal. PR 01: Discover your element. PR 02: You found your element. Now wear it.

03

EXPERIENTIAL / PHYSICAL

ROLE: INTRIGUE + EXPERIENCE

Ambient elemental installations, then a three-room TATTVA launch built around each energy.

04

E-COMMERCE

ROLE: WEAR + CONVERT

Discover → Element → Product → Styling → Purchase. The product page extends the campaign.

03 — THE TWO-STAGE CREATOR DROP

PR 01 — DISCOVER

Something is taking shape. Inside: three energies. One is yours.

PR 02 — YOUR ELEMENT

Creator brief: don't reveal the product; share your reaction; let your audience guess yours. "You found your element — and this is what it looks like on me." CTA: MEET TATTVA.

04 — THE ELEMENT CAROUSEL

Five frames: a question, three energies, one invitation.

THE INSTALLATION — A SENSORY SPACE. Three elements come to life through light, texture, scent and movement — inviting you to discover your element.

- 01 ENTER A sensory corridor introduces the elements.
- 02 EXPLORE Feel each element through space, scent, texture and sound.
- 03 DISCOVER A moment of reflection to find your element.
- 04 CONTINUE Take home the story and an invitation to launch.

NOT A DISPLAY. A FEELING.

MYSTERY → DISCOVERY → REVEAL → EXPERIENCE → STYLE → EXPRESS

THE SIGNAL WE'D WATCH CLOSEST

Element discovery → product exploration

If someone discovers Agni, do they then explore Agni? It tests whether the emotional mechanism is driving product consideration.

QUALITATIVE SIGNALS

"This feels like me."

"I can wear this with what I already own."

"I want to know my element."

FROM INDIAN ROOTS TO PERSONAL EXPRESSION

Past Modern asks: how can Indian references be reinterpreted for the contemporary wardrobe? TATTVA extends the question: how can they become a contemporary language of self-expression?

THREE ELEMENTS. THREE ENERGIES.
ONE FAMILIAR WARDROBE.

SAME YOU. DIFFERENT ENERGY.
